Sonoran Beads

Step-by-step instructions:

1. With your wire cutters cut the capture into two pieces, one 28" and one 8".
2. Slide one end of one of the lengths of capture into one of the end caps and gently close the end cap with your chain nose pliers, being careful not to mar the end cap. Repeat the process on the other end of your capture and on each end of the other length.
3. Using two of the 6mm jumprings attach the clasp to the end caps on the longer length of capture.
4. On each headpin string a crystal, a heart and a crystal. Make a wire wrapped loop with the headpin to form a pendant.
5. Using the other two 6mm jumprings attach a small heart pendant to each end of the smaller length of capture.
6. To form the love knot lay the longer piece of capture on your work surface folded in half. Lay the shorter piece across it at the folded end (fig 1.) and bring each end under the side and over the folded end of the longer piece (fig.2 & 3). Pull the ends of the shorter piece to loosely snug up the knot (fig. 4).
